Vaccine Access, Vaccine Hesitancy: Challenges to Herd Immunity
For the United States to achieve robust community protection from Covid-19, 75% to 85% of the population will need to be vaccinated, and yet only about 60% of adults say they intend to get a shot. Improving vaccination rates will require addressing vaccine hesitancy and bringing more vaccination sites into neighborhoods. Visit the Hastings Center website to learn more.

British Variant More Contagious
Science Daily reports, “A new study at Tel Aviv University found that the British variant (termed: B.1.1.7) of Covid-19 is 45% more contagious than the original virus.”

3 in 10 Health-care Workers Consider Leaving the Profession
A Washington Post-Kaiser Family Foundation poll finds that, a year into the pandemic, roughly 3 in 10 health-care workers have weighed leaving their profession. More than half say they are burned out. And about 6 in 10 say stress from the pandemic has harmed their mental health.

Chiropractor First Person Charged Under COVID-19 False Claims Law
A US district court will decide whether a chiropractor who is charged with 10 counts of making false marketing claims related to COVID-19 will be the first person convicted under a new federal law. Visit the Medscape website to learn more.
